*Like kicking back in your favorite chair,
Warming your toes by the fireplace,
A fascinating book, inspiring music, steaming cup of coffee...*

We want you to feel that comfortable with us. And although we can't promise a cup of hot java will magically appear each time we talk, we can promise a peaceful, easy feeling when you do business with Milestone. Building relationships is the most important aspect of what we do. The final result, the completion of your vision of your home & the increased value from the durability of stone, is the payback for us. We feel a great responsibility to the world-class projects that we have been involved in, each one is taken personally, with whatever stone detail the client has trusted us with.

In the enclosed catalog you will find a showcase of our products, and something more, a collection of past and present projects, which surpassed our clients, now friends, expectations. As you look through the pages, you will find similarities to your own projects and learn how Milestone can help you in ways that you may never have imagined. Like being there for you in a tight deadline, delivering a product that brings your vision to life, and provides tangible, long-term value to the project.

You want assurance that your project is in the best of hands; that workmanship, value and trustworthiness matter as much to us as they do to you. Check out our client testimonials on the web before you hire us; get the scoop straight from those who know us best - our clients. As always, when you are ready to brainstorm your project, please call us. Allow us to prove to you how expertise, ingenuity and the determination to create solutions will come in to play for you.

Many thanks,

The Milestone Sales Team
